

San Francisco

FIVE GREAT

New classic burgers

From Absinthe to Zuni, this is a city ripe with great burgers. But now a crop of up-and-coming players is giving those icons a run for their money. Here are five new restaurants where the burgers are destined to become classics.

Epic Roasthouse

Ground chuck? How about ground rib eye, tenderloin, and New York strip? At Pat Kuleto's waterfront meat palace, the kitchen uses the trim from the steaks to make what we're not afraid to call the best burger ever. With a $25 price tag, it damn well better be.

369 EMBARCADERO, S.F., 415-369-9955