Brunchies by Carey Sweet

EPIC ROASTHOUSE

OK, it's not exactly new – chef Jan Birnbaum has been sending out brunch since August 2008. But it's sensational, for à la carte selections like breakfast pizza with duck egg, bacon, fontina and arugula ($14). What gets everyone's morning motor running, though, is the prix fix menu ($40) that includes three courses and either a mimosa or spicy Bloody Mary. It's a real score, for unusual luxuries like an appetizer of spring green garlic soup, an entrée of strawberry ricotta pancakes in balsamic glaze and strawberry mint butter, and dessert of hot, steamy beignets slathered in marmalade and drizzled in chicory coffee syrup with chocolate sauce. Served Saturday and Sunday, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.
