EPIC ROASTHOUSE

(EMBARCADERO)

369 The Embarcadero,
415-369-9955.

$$$-$$$$

SCENE: The sister restaurant to Waterbar, Epic Roasthouse is Pat Kuleto's homage to meat. The dining room is outfitted with deep leather banquettes, giving the room a clubby feel. Almost every seat offers spectacular views of the Bay.

EATS: As you would expect at a self-described roasthouse, the focus here is on the beef. The usual suspects (filet, prime rib and porterhouse among them) are joined on the menu by hearty lamb and veal chops.

Sides come à la carte and include cream-rich scalloped potatoes, sautéed spinach and the requisite macaroni and cheese. Epic also serves what may well be the most expensive burger in town—a three-quarter-pound, $25, ground-daily version. The chocolate soufflé, topped with caramel ice cream, is among the best in the city.
